THE DISHMAN HILLS

DISHMAN HILLS NATURAL AREA ASSN., E. 10820 Maxwell, Spokane, Wa. 99206

The possibility of buying a sizeable piece of wild land in the Dishman Hills is looming on the horizon. A rugged area, it has several year-round springs on it and is adjacent to The Nature Conservancy's 80-acre preserve. This points to the importance of keeping donations coming in so we will be in better shape financially when the opportunity arrives, instead of waiting until the last minute to find funds. Please send whatever you can, whenever you can, for the land acquisition fund. We deposit it in an interest-earning account until it is needed for land purchase. You may use the form below:

The Treasurer, Dishman Hills Natural Area Association

Our October meeting will present a half-hour preview of the offerings of the Spokane Civic Theater for the coming season. This will immediately follow a short business meeting at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 3. For announcement of place, watch newspapers, TV and radio.

This spring we picked up $10.85 for the land fund by selling aluminum which a few of us gathered. Not much, but if each of the 1800 plus persons receiving this bulletin would save aluminum and other salable metals, we could take in many times that amount and reduce the solid waste problem at the same time. So SAVE these: Aluminum beer and pudding cans, anything else aluminum such as TV dinner and turkey pie dishes and clean foil; copper, brass, lead, including old auto batteries in any condition. Electrical wire is copper or aluminum--remove insulation. NO iron cans please. Test them with a magnet--only iron will stick to it. Please hang on to your metal until we can set a date for receiving it. Smash cans flat to save space.

(Sorry about the staple through middle of the bulletin!)
